Steve

I met up with Ursula after lunch today to discuss a cunning plan going forwards. We looked at the route taken by her on the dog walk (old orchard with 2 foot high grass & the outdoor school)

However, the rain decided to push on through & the day perked up!! Quick trip back home

(3 minutes down the road & back), pick up the still charging detector & then pop down the path & into the school.

1 x 1926 penny & a broken Matchbox Tractor with some lead was all to show for about 40 minutes swinging. Decided to give it another 10 it another 10 minutes before heading home & then, bang.. Crisp & clear, scrape back the rubber & horse poo, & up pops a rose gold bracelet... Quick shout to Ursula & just look at that happy face. 😊 (oh, & Kevin the dog who "probably" jumped up & broke the chain.
